Clue #1 A

The most classic of ciphers will aid you here as you search for exam points most dear First you need to find in Olsson Hall your Systems classmates' pictures upon a wall

My apologies to those I do not mention
But the form of a number is my intention Draw from Cassidy to Hui to start the clue Clark to Saunders is the next you should do

Mr. Incerto completes this measure Now reveal the next step in your quest for treasure!

Clue #2

The 80's are a time I hold most dear Turtles and Transformers I love, it is clear My sister, though, had a different creature Tenderheart being the primary feature

On the second floor of MEC you can see several planes of different pedigree One of these has a similar name to my sister's toys of fame

Using the man's name in the caption take the following action:
Take the name as the "Frenchman's" key to decrypt the following for me:

SFCIP OX VAURW CSSDOINIFR WH CTLKGCLL

The answer of this poor rhyme should be placed here in due time:

Clue #3

We hold "Court" near Thornton Hall but no judges sit this bench Celebrations happen behind these walls
But could used for anything in a pinch

Find the plaque upon the ground furthest from where I teach dedicating the pathway to all around so that his name is within reach

Take the two primes on this plaque and using a more modern cipher decrypt the following stack:
(Is there anything that rhymes with "cipher"?)

Clue #4

You have gone through quite a bit as I have forced you to sit through story after story of random facts and lessons upon lessons of Java nicknacks

But something you might have gathered that there is something that I rathered to have had at my side to help the time abide.

Answer 4A:

Take the city of its beginnings to help you find your winnings And use that as the "keyword", if you will in this further test of your skill
